Town Hall Music Performance

From: Ken
To: Rina
Subject: Friday's performance

Hi Rina,
Thank you for agreeing to help our brass band at the town hall concert this Friday. Because one of our percussion players hurt his wrist yesterday, we really need someone who can play the small drum or the tambourine. Since you played both at last year's festival, which instrument would you prefer to play?

On Friday, band members will meet in the music room at 3:30 p.m. to pack the music stands. After that, we will walk to the town hall together at 4:00 p.m. Mr. Sato will carry the heavy instruments in his van, so you don't need to carry anything large.

Also, everyone on stage has to wear a white shirt and dark trousers. Please email me back tonight so I can print the program tomorrow morning.

See you soon,
Ken

Seeds for Next Month

Every Saturday morning, Emi visits the Maple Community Garden with her grandfather. Residents of different ages grow vegetables and flowers there together. Last Saturday, the sky was covered with dark clouds when they left home, so her grandfather reminded Emi to pack two light raincoats in her bag.

When they arrived at the garden, they saw Mr. Lee, an older neighbor, carrying a heavy wooden box full of seed packets. Because his back was hurting a little, Emi hurried over and helped him arrange the packets neatly on a long table under a tent. Mr. Lee thanked her and explained which flowers grew well in summer.

Twenty minutes later, large drops of rain suddenly began to fall. Everyone worked quickly as a team. While the adults covered the vegetable beds with plastic sheets, Emi and two other students moved the young flowerpots under the roof of the tool shed so the strong rain would not damage them.

After the rain stopped, Emi noticed a small bookshelf inside the shed. Garden members leave gardening books there so anyone can borrow them for two weeks. Emi chose a beginner's guide to growing sunflowers. Mr. Lee also gave her a packet of sunflower seeds as a thank-you gift.

On the way home, Emi asked her grandfather if they could clear a sunny corner of their own yard. Next month, she plans to plant the seeds there and keep a photo diary of how tall the sunflowers grow.
