Schedule Change for Newspaper Club

From: Haruka, Editor-in-Chief
To: School Newspaper Club Members
Subject: Interview with the cafeteria nutritionist

Hi everyone,
Good news! Ms. Kimura, our school nutritionist, agreed to give us an interview for the winter issue of our school newspaper. She will tell us how she plans warm soup menus using vegetables grown in our city.

Originally, we hoped to meet her this Wednesday after school, but she has a city meeting that afternoon. Instead, we will interview her on Friday from 4:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the home economics room.

Two members—Sota and Mei—will ask the questions, and Yuna will take photos. Could everyone else write one question you want to ask Ms. Kimura and put it in our club box by Thursday noon?

Thanks,
Haruka

Schedule Change for Newspaper Club — Questions

(23) What will Ms. Kimura talk about in the interview?

1 Rules for cleaning the school gym.

2 How to build a greenhouse at home.

3 How she plans soup menus with local vegetables.

4 Her trip to foreign restaurants.

(24) Why was the interview moved from Wednesday to Friday?

1 The home economics room was too cold.

2 Yuna broke the club camera.

3 School will be closed on Wednesday.

4 Ms. Kimura has a city meeting on Wednesday afternoon.

(25) What are the other club members asked to do by Thursday noon?

1 Cook vegetable soup for Friday.

2 Take photos of the cafeteria.

3 Put one interview question into the club box.

4 Print the winter newspaper.

The Sound Map of Sakura Town

In social studies class, Mr. Endo asked his eighth-grade students to research something special about Sakura Town. Most groups chose famous historical buildings or local sweets, but Riku's group wanted to try a fresh topic. While waiting at a railroad crossing after school, Riku heard the evening chimes from the town hall, frogs in the rice fields, and the bell of a tofu seller's cart.

"What if we make a map of sounds that belong to our town?" Riku suggested. His three teammates loved the idea. Over two weeks, they walked through six neighborhoods with a small voice recorder and notebooks. Before recording inside shops, they politely explained their school project and asked permission.

They collected eighteen distinct sounds, including the rhythmic clack of a weaving loom, seagulls at the fishing port, and steam rising from a hot-spring footbath. On a large poster map, they drew colored icons for each place and wrote what time of day the sound could be heard.

At the school presentation day, visitors scanned codes beside the map to listen through headphones. Several elderly residents smiled and said the sounds reminded them how lively their everyday town really was.

The Sound Map of Sakura Town — Questions

(26) What gave Riku the idea for his group's project?

1 Various everyday sounds he heard at a railroad crossing.

2 A TV program about famous castles.

3 A book he borrowed from Mr. Endo.

4 A sweet shop owned by his uncle.

(27) What did the students do before recording sounds inside shops?

1 They bought expensive gifts.

2 They explained their project and asked permission.

3 They waited until the shops closed.

4 They asked Mr. Endo to record everything alone.

(28) What information did the group write on their large poster map?

1 The price of hot-spring tickets.

2 Names of all historical mayors.

3 Bus fares between six neighborhoods.

4 Colored icons and the time of day each sound could be heard.

(29) How did visitors experience the recorded sounds on presentation day?

1 By scanning codes and listening with headphones.

2 By walking to the fishing port together.

3 By watching a two-hour movie.

4 By playing musical instruments on stage.

(30) How did elderly residents react to the sound map?

1 They complained that the headphones were too loud.

2 They said eighteen sounds were too many.

3 They asked the town hall to stop the evening chimes.

4 They smiled and appreciated how lively their town was.
