Schedule Change for Track Practice

From: Coach Watanabe
To: Track and Field Club Members
Subject: Saturday morning practice moved to Municipal Stadium

Hi team,
Because crane trucks will be pruning tall trees around our school ground this Saturday, May 23, we cannot use our track in the morning. Instead, I have reserved two lanes at Aoba Municipal Stadium from 8:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

This is a great chance to practice baton passes on an all-weather rubber track before June's city meet! Meet at the stadium's West Gate at 8:15 a.m. Bring 100 yen for the student locker fee and check that your spike pins are 7 millimeters or shorter, as required by stadium rules.

Coach Watanabe

(23) Why can't the club use the school ground this Saturday morning?

1 The school gate is being painted.

2 A soccer tournament will use the field all day.

3 Heavy snow covered the running lanes.

4 Crane trucks will be trimming tall trees around the ground.

(24) Why is practicing at Aoba Municipal Stadium helpful for the team?

1 They can practice baton passes on an all-weather rubber track before June's meet.

2 They do not have to run at all there.

3 Every member gets free running shoes.

4 It is indoors with air conditioning.

(25) What two things must members check or bring according to the last paragraph?

1 A bicycle and a whistle.

2 A pruning saw and a helmet.

3 500 yen for lunch and a tent.

4 100 yen for the locker and spike pins 7 mm or shorter.

Growing Loofah Curtains at School

Last summer, the third-floor classrooms facing south at Nishi Junior High School became uncomfortably warm every afternoon, even with electric fans running. During an environment committee meeting in April this year, fifteen-year-old Mei suggested planting "green curtains" of climbing loofah vines outside the first-floor science room first as a test.

With advice from Mr. Oka, the school caretaker, twelve committee members dug compost into long planter boxes, stretched netting up to the second-floor balcony, and sowed loofah seeds in early May. Taking turns watering the boxes before homeroom became their daily habit—even during rainy weeks when weeds popped up.

By late July, broad green leaves covered the entire net and bright yellow flowers bloomed. Thermometers placed by the science club showed that the windowsill behind the loofah leaves was four degrees cooler than an unshaded window next door!

In October, the students dried the mature loofah gourds and cut them into natural dish sponges for the cooking room, proud that one packet of seeds had cooled their school and left zero waste.

Growing Loofah Curtains at School — Questions

(26) What problem had Nishi Junior High School faced the previous summer?

1 Strong winds broke the science room windows.

2 South-facing classrooms became very warm in the afternoon.

3 No flowers grew anywhere near the school.

4 The cooking room ran out of dish soap.

(27) Who gave the committee practical gardening advice?

1 Mei's younger sister.

2 A famous chef on television.

3 Mr. Oka, the school caretaker.

4 A shopkeeper in another prefecture.

(28) What did the science club's thermometers show in late July?

1 The shaded windowsill was four degrees cooler than an unshaded one next door.

2 Indoor temperatures dropped below zero degrees.

3 The loofah leaves made the room warmer at night.

4 Both windows had the exact same temperature.

(29) How did the students use the mature loofah gourds in October?

1 They cooked them all for school lunch soup.

2 They dried and cut them into natural dish sponges for the cooking room.

3 They sold them at a train station for ten thousand yen.

4 They buried them under the soccer field.

(30) Why did Mei and the committee feel proud at the end?

1 One packet of seeds both cooled the classroom and produced useful sponges without waste.

2 They won a national science prize in Tokyo.

3 They never had to pull any weeds all summer.

4 Air conditioners were removed from the city.
