Preparing for Mountain Hiking

From: Mr. Kato
To: Outdoor Club Members
Subject: Sunday's hike on Mount Takao

Hello everyone,
The weather forecast for this Sunday looks clear and cool! Let's meet in front of the ticket machine at Central Station at 7:40 a.m. Our train leaves at 7:55 a.m., so please do not be late.

We will eat lunch near the top of the mountain. Bring rice balls or sandwiches, a large bottle of water, and a plastic sheet to sit on. Even if the morning feels warm in town, the wind at the top is cold in November. Make sure to put a light jacket in your backpack.

See you on Sunday,
Mr. Kato

Preparing for Mountain Hiking — Questions

1 At 7:15 a.m.

2 At 7:55 a.m.

3 At 8:30 a.m.

4 At 7:40 a.m.

(29) Where will the club members eat lunch?

1 Inside the train.

2 At Central Station.

3 Near the top of the mountain.

4 At Mr. Kato's house.

(30) Why should students put a light jacket in their backpacks?

1 It will rain heavily all day.

2 The wind near the top is cold in November.

3 They will sleep on the mountain.

4 The train has strong air conditioning.

Grandfather's Old Radio

When Sota helped his grandmother clean the storage room, he found a small brown radio with a silver handle. "That was your grandfather's favorite radio forty years ago," his grandmother said. Sota turned the switch, but no sound came out.

Sota liked learning how machines worked. He asked if he could take the radio to Mr. Yamada, a retired electrician who lived next door. Mr. Yamada smiled and opened the back cover carefully. Inside, one thin wire had come loose, and dust covered the speaker.

For an hour, Mr. Yamada showed Sota how to brush away the dust gently and reconnect the wire safely. When they put new batteries in and turned the dial, clear jazz music filled the room! Sota was amazed by the warm sound.

That evening, Sota placed the working radio on the kitchen table. When his grandmother heard an old song from her youth, tears came to her eyes, and she thanked Sota again and again.
