3 They must be clean and undamaged.

4 They must include socks and hats.

(22) What will happen to the clothes that remain at 2:00 p.m.?

1 They will be thrown away.

2 They will be sold online.

3 Owners must come back to get them.

4 They will be given to a charity.

Preparing for the Debate Match

From: Kaito
To: Sara
Subject: Saturday's practice match

Hi Sara,
Good job at English club today! Our practice debate with West Junior High School is getting close. Their teacher just emailed Ms. Ito: one of their members caught a cold, so we will meet online by video call instead of going to their school this Saturday.

We can use the computer room on the third floor of our school. Let's meet there at 9:30 a.m. to test the microphone before the match starts at 10:00 a.m.

Could you print three copies of our note cards tomorrow? The printer at my house ran out of black ink tonight. I will bring the timer and the topic list.

See you tomorrow,
Kaito

(23) How will the practice debate be held this Saturday?

1 At West Junior High School.

2 By video call from Kaito's school.

3 By exchanging emails next week.

4 In a park between the two schools.

(24) Why do Kaito and Sara need to meet at 9:30 a.m.?

1 To clean all the computers.

2 To buy black ink near the school.

3 To check the microphone before the match.

4 To write a new topic list.

(25) Why does Kaito ask Sara to print the note cards?

1 Sara has faster internet.

2 Kaito's printer has no black ink left.

3 Kaito lost his note cards.

4 The computer room has no electricity.

Learning the Bus Routes

When Leo started junior high school, he began taking the city bus for the first time. On his third morning, he got on a bus with the same orange stripe as usual, without reading the sign on the front. Twenty minutes later, the bus turned toward the port instead of his school! A kind driver told him how to transfer back, and Leo arrived just before the bell.

That evening, Leo looked at the city bus map online, but the lines overlapped like colorful spaghetti. His younger sister, Mio, who would enter the same school next year, said she was scared of making the same mistake.

Leo decided to make a simple pocket guide for students. Over two weekends, he rode four main routes from the central terminal, counting how many stops each took to reach the school, the library, and the sports park. He noticed that bus numbers ending in 2 always went east toward his school, while numbers ending in 5 went west toward the port.

He folded a single sheet of thick paper into a card that fit inside a student ID case. On one side, he drew the three main landmarks and wrote the number rule in bold letters. When Leo showed the card to his homeroom teacher, the school printed copies for all new seventh graders the following April. Mio carried hers proudly on her very first day.

Learning the Bus Routes — Questions

(26) Why did Leo get on the wrong bus on his third morning?

1 He could not see in the rain.

2 His watch was twenty minutes slow.

3 The bus driver gave him the wrong ticket.

4 He checked only the color stripe, not the front sign.

(27) What was the problem with the city bus map online?

1 Its lines overlapped and were hard to follow.

2 It showed only train stations.

3 It cost money to download.

4 It had not been updated for ten years.

(28) What useful rule did Leo discover while riding the buses?

1 All orange buses stop at the library.

2 The final digit of the bus number shows its direction.

3 Buses are free for students on weekends.

4 Every route takes exactly twenty minutes.

(29) How did Leo design his guide so students could carry it easily?

1 He folded a sheet to fit inside a student ID case.

2 He recorded it as a song.

3 He painted it on a large wooden board.

4 He attached it to a bicycle bell.

(30) What happened the following April?

1 The city changed all bus colors.

2 Leo became a bus driver.

3 The school gave copies of Leo's card to new students.

4 Mio decided to walk to school instead.
